The nomination of Prince Cupid as delegate to congress was the most fortunate thing which could have happened to the Hawanans. It is freely admitted by them that he did not seek the nomination, and simply joined the republican party and accepted the nomination for the good of his people. Notwithstanding the proposed coalition between the democrats and home rulers, Prince Cupid will be elected. The reason for this lies in the fact that in the past two years, the Hawaiians have learned a good many things that they did not know before, one of which is that Wilcox is not a respond. She nudged him violently to its possibilities are enormous, and representative Hawaiian, any further than he is able to represent his own individual interests. The Hawaiians have also come to understand that the old order of things has passed away and that a new day has come bringing new issues. And it is an under estimate of the political sagacity of the Hawaiians to imagine that they will be led by the nose any further by Wilcox, when it is in said: their power to weld themselves into a compact and conquering Hawaiian republican party.

Robert Wilcox, who is unquestionably a shrewd politician, was able to see quite as well as the NEWS could see it, that home rule affairs were assuming a critical phase on Maui. Consequently he came over to Mani last week, pocketed all the pawns which he had set up on the representative chess board and put up in their places John Richardson, Thomas Clark and T. B. Lyons, and it is whispered that he attempted to put up Col. W. H. Cornwell in verse action on his appeal from the place of Senator Billy White, Mr. Lyons' friends state that he unqualifiedly refused to accept a nomination at Wilcox's hands, and the attitude of the other gentlemen named has not been declared yet, although it is to laugh to think of Tom Clark running on the home rule ticket. It is even yet not too late to effect a fusion between the republicans and democrats which would give Maui a respectable representation in the legislature, but September 8 is not far off, and after that date it will be too late.

While the physical effects of the baseball game between the Kahului and Wailuku married men last Sunday may properly be passed over in painful silence, still the moral and social results of the game are noteworthy. Men are better friends and better citizens, after meeting each other in physical contests, and much of the harmony united purpose which will yet build up Maui to one of the leading communities on the Islands has its strongest links forged in friendly athletic contests. Lahaina and Kula each wish to play Wailuku, and likely Kula and Lahaina may be induced to meet on the Wailuku diamond. While this may not develop high class baseball, yet it will do better; it will develop a friendly, cordial spirit be. tween the different communities on Maui, which will tend to help all the people of Maui to know, respect and sympathize with each other, the fruit of which will be more united action, when it is needed.

Although the republicans put an emphatic county goversment plank in their platform, still some of the democrats of Wailuku openly state that it was merely intended as a vote catcher, and was not meant in earnest. Don't worry yourselves. my brothers; if the republicans elect a majority of the present legislature and then fail to pass a satisfactory county bill, there simply will not be any more republican party in the Islands, save in name, for many years, if ever again.

Candidate Thomas Clark boasts that he has now put Wilcox in his pocket. Poor Tom is not only "looking backward," but also upside down and inside out, for the fact is that Wilcox came over here and put Tom in his pocket, where he will carry him till it suits his selfish convenience to take Tom out and chuck him in the nearest taro patch. Just wait, Tom, and the News will prove the truth of this prediction to you.

Many young Hawaiians will feel inclined to draw away from Cupid and follow Wilcox, simply because Cupid has announced himself a republican. But remember, young men, that Cupid drew away from Wilcox some time ago and declared in favor of his own manhood, thus erecting a cross of fire to which every patriotic manhood, thus erecting a cross of fire to which every patriotic It naturally follows, also, that the young Bawahan should rally, if he would see his own race move electric arc can be utilized as the onward and upward.

Where the republicans made their mistake as to the nomination of delegate was in not having encouraged Prince Cupid to accept the independent nomination of the Hui Kuokoas and then simply endorse his nomination. This would have given the democrats a chance to do the same thing without hurting their party pride.

Politics makes strange bed fellows, and nothing could be funnier than to see leading democrats like Col. W. H. Cornwell and F. H. Hayselden of Maui turn away from Prince Cupid and support Wilcox. At first glance it seems incredible that it could be true. but strange things have happened.

In a recent issue, the NEWS urged the Republicans to take up Thomas Clark and T. B. Lyons. Wilcox snapped up Clark, but the better man still remains, and his name would be a tower of strength to a fusion ticket, if he will accept the nomination.

How Schley Heard the News.

A gentlemen just over from the States was telling a good story about Admiral Schley at the Army and Navy Club the other night.

The army was in a favorite resort when the news of the President's adverdict of the court was made public, and the news was brought to him by some friends. He listened to their none himself.

"Well, what do you think of it?" the Admiral had nothing to say.

"It isn't said that Cervera got away?"asked Schley, without even a symptom of a smile.

"No, of course not."

"Or that the Spanish fleet ever did business after that date?"

"Then, after all, we did not fight vain," came the observation, delivered in a tone of voice that expressed intenst satisfaction, and he immediately changed the subject-Manila Critic.

own wines?

In your issue of Aug. 23rd, you make the statement that Bob Carlile of Lahaina must have got 'cold feet,' and refused to match Black Bess against Maui Rose, which is not true. Bob Carlile, the next day after the races, met Mr. W. H. Cornwell, Jr., at Waikapu and offered to put up two hundred dol ars ($200.00) a side for a race between Maui Rose and Black Bess, for three eighths of a mile. The offer was accepted and he told Bob Carlile in the presence of two witnesshown by the manner in which he ses, that he was willing to race. But laughs, or, rather, by the sound which he makes, it is maintained by a Euro-make the match, Mr. Cornwell backed down, and said he had turned his horse out and would not race Maui Rose "Those who laugh in 'A' or who against Black Bess, under any conmake a sound like 'A' are frank, sideration.
